Sub-optimal Beer

Despite massive gains made recently by the Craft Beer industry, beer made by Bud, Miller, Coors and other giants make up the vast majority of beer consumed in the world. Why do so many people drink this stuff? We taste it so you don't have to. (Listed as adults only for the occasional f-bomb, but otherwise safe.)

Events

Here are some goings-on related to GAPN podcasters. If you'd like your event listed here, drop us an email at info@gapodcastnetwork.com.

Zentropy concerts tonight and tomorrow

Zentropy, one of the newest GAPN podcasters, is having a concert TONIGHT (June 27, 2008) at their studio in the Eyedrum building. See this blog post for information. Space is very limited, so you may have better luck catching them tomorrow night at the North Georgia Mountain Boogie. Details to follow at Artlanta.

Come hang out

Rusty will interview Bobby Blackwolf, a GAPN affiliate, for an episode of Mostly ITP at Manuel's Tavern in Atlanta tomorrow night (June 28) at 6 p.m. This isn't going to be a big party, but drop by and have a beer if you're in the neighborhood!

The address is 602 N Highland Ave NE, Atlanta, GA. You can get directions from Google Maps.

North Fulton Drama Club auditions

The North Fulton Drama Club (podcast here) will hold auditions for its production of Romeo and Juliet in mid-July. More information is available here.

iPhone site

If you have an iPhone, we now have a version of our site just for you!
